

Copyright Agreement

This agreement is made as of the date specified below, by and between DesignWrite, a California company, as publisher of REALbasic Developer, and the "Author", as original author of one or more articles (whether singular or plural, the "Article") submitted for publication in REALbasic Developer.

Purpose of Agreement

The purpose of this agreement is to set forth the terms and conditions under which REALbasic Developer will review and possibly publish the Article. These terms and conditions are primarily intended to assure REALbasic Developer that while the Article is under review, REALbasic Developer has the exclusive right to publish it, and that upon acceptance, REALbasic Developer will be the first and only worldwide publisher of the Article.

Agreement

For the mutual promises and covenants contained herein, and for other good and valuable consideration, each paid to the other, receipt and sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, REALbasic Developer and Author hereby agree as follows:

Author desires REALbasic Developer to publish the Article in a future edition of REALbasic Developer, and hereby submits the Article for pre-publication review via electronic mail.

REALbasic Developer will review the Article at its convenience, and shall notify Author of its acceptance or rejection. Such notification shall be in writing or by telephone or fax or electronic mail, but in no event shall such notification occur later than 90 days after submission. If REALbasic Developer fails to notify Author within the 90 day period, Author may seek publication elsewhere and may withdraw the Article from consideration upon 30 days notice in writing, email, or by fax to REALbasic Developer.

Author shall make any and all revisions and modifications to the Article requested by REALbasic Developer. Further, REALbasic Developer reserves the right to make whatever editorial changes it sees fit, in its sole and absolute discretion. Author shall also submit machine-readable copies of any relevant computer code or software, and copies of any and all resource material necessary for REALbasic Developer to verify the technical or factual aspects of the Article at the time of article submission.

Once the Article is accepted for publication, REALbasic Developer shall publish the Article in REALbasic Developer magazine within 365 days of such acceptance. If REALbasic Developer fails to publish within this period, Author may withdraw the Article upon 30 days written notice to REALbasic Developer. Upon such withdrawal, REALbasic Developer shall have no further obligation to Author of any kind, and shall have no rights of any kind in the Article.

From the time of acceptance for publication, unless timely withdrawn by Author, Author hereby irrevocably assigns and conveys to REALbasic Developer all rights to publication, display, transmission, and any and all other exploitation of the Article in all media, in any language, worldwide. These rights shall be exclusive to REALbasic Developer from acceptance through one year from the date of publication. The date of publication is the first day of the month on the cover of the magazine the Article first appears in. These rights shall include rights to publish reprints or to include the Article in any future collections of REALbasic Developer material including, but not limited to, an annual REALbasic Developer CD-ROM. These rights shall also include the right to authorize republication of the Article in other media and periodicals, and the right to use the Article for all commercial and merchandising purposes that pertain to REALbasic Developer magazine or to DesignWrite. DesignWrite shall have no rights of any kind to any computer code or software contained in the Article, whether used as example, or otherwise, but may make such use of such code, concepts or software as any reader of the magazine would be expected to do. Author is entitled to use the article text, pictures or related source code either personally or commercially without restriction. Furthermore, if indicated at the time of article submission, Author may retain the copyright of said computer code.

After one year from the date of publication, all of the rights mentioned in paragraph 5 above shall continue but shall be non-exclusive to the extent that Author may utilize and display the Article for any non-profit purpose, and for any other purpose in which the primary source of revenue is not sales of copies of the Article. Author may not utilize, display, reprint or republish the article for profit without prior written permission. For example, Author may distribute copies of the Article without charge to attendees of a symposium or conference in which Author is paid a fee to speak, but Author may not sell copies of the Article, whether Author speaks or not. Whenever the article is reprinted or republished by the author, such reprint or republication shall state that the article is reprinted from REALbasic Developer Magazine specifying REALbasic Developer's date of publication. Author may substantially rework an article for publication elsewhere without any restrictions by DesignWrite.

REALbasic Developer shall pay author its usual fee for articles of the same, quality, length and type. Such payment shall be due 30 days after the first day of the month of publication. REALbasic Developer's usual fees are described in the version of its "Writer's Kit" that is current at the time of submission. Judgment as to the quality, and type of article shall be in the sole and absolute discretion of REALbasic Developer. Author warrants that the Article is entirely Author's original work, (except quoted items which must be correctly attributed) and has not been previously published. Author also warrants that the Article and its publication violate no laws and no rights of any individual, group, association, corporation, governmental agency, or other entity.

Both Author and REALbasic Developer acknowledge that the Article was written at the Author's own direction and not at REALbasic Developer's direction and that the Author's only relationship to REALbasic Developer is that of an independent contractor.

This agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of California. Any provision found to invalid or unenforceable by operation of law or public policy or for any other reason by any court shall be severed and the remaining provisions shall be treated and construed so as to most nearly achieve the purposes set forth above.

Any and all notices required under this agreement shall be deemed made three working days after placement in regular US mail, or one working day after fax or email transmission. Addresses for all such notices for Author appear below and for REALbasic Developer below.

By causing a facsimile or electronic mail copy of the Article to be received by DesignWrite (submission), author accepts and agrees to the terms and conditions of this contract. The act of submission shall be all that is required to evidence author's acceptance of all of the terms and conditions of this agreement. Lack of signature execution by author shall have no legal significance whatever. Any changes or alterations made by Author in copy derived from this Agreement shall be null and void and the submitted Agreement shall be interpreted and enforced as if such changes had not been made.

DesignWrite accepts and agrees to the terms and conditions of this contract at any time it accepts delivery of a submitted Article. The lack of a signature execution by DesignWrite shall have no legal significance whatever, providing that no modifications have been made by Author to this Agreement.
